Daniel was a fine young man
born in the land of Judah.

He was taken captive to the land of Babylon with many other Jews.

He worked in the royal palace, but still worshipped the true God.