CAMEL

“How hard it is,” He said, “for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. It is easier for a CAMEL to get through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.”

THE FIRST FAT CAMEL

Once there was a rich man. He lived in a big stone house. He rode a fast white horse. He wore a long purple robe. He had everything—everything, except for an answer to the world’s biggest question.

“Is the moon really made of cheese?” No. That’s not the world’s biggest question. “Why can’t I hit my sister if she hit me first?” No. That’s not the world’s biggest question. “Why do I have to brush my baby teeth if they’re just going to fall out?” No. That’s not the world’s biggest question.

“What must I do to inherit eternal life?” Yes! Yes, that is the world’s biggest question. “How do I get to heaven? How do I live with God forever and ever and ever?”—that’s what the rich man wanted to know.

"How do I get to heaven? How do I live for ever and ever and ever?"

Now, can you think of anyone who might have an answer to the world's biggest question?

Jesus! That's right. And that's just what the rich man thought. So, one day when Jesus came to town the rich man came to Jesus. "Good teacher," he asked, "What must I do to inherit eternal life?"

Jesus looked at him. Jesus loved him. Jesus answered him, "Do you know the Ten Commandments?"

The man smiled. He knew all ten. 1, 2, 3, 4—the first four talk about loving God. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10—the next six talk about loving others. “I know those. I’ve obeyed those!” the man said. He thought he was so good.
